TOKYO ACCUSES U. S. OF AIDING CHINESE

American Ambassador at Japan's Capital Denies Nipponese Charges of Help to China.

By the Associated Press.
Admitting that the possibility of conciliation between Japan and China was extremely small, the League of Nations prepared yesterday to adopt a more firm policy regarding the course of Japan in Manchuria.
Meanwhile in Tokyo the war office issued a statement saying that China was receiving military supplies from America. Japanese newspaper reports said that Tokyo was preparing to protest to Washington the receipt by the Japanese authorities as "ridiculous."
The American ambassador at Tokyo denied that the United States and China providing for supplies of money, arms or munitions.
All of the Sino-Japanese battlefronts were reported quiet in bitter cold weather. A Peiping dispatch said Japanese scout airplanes had flown over the Chinese lines 70 miles south of the city of Jehol in the province of that name.
An Italian soldier was shot and killed by Chinese in the Shanhai-wan battle zone. Italian authorities said he had been guaranteed safe passage and Rome was expected to demand satisfaction from the Chinese nationalist government.

ONE LAST PEACE EFFORT IS PLANNED AT GENEVA

GENEVA, Switzerland, Jan. 16.— (AP)—Meeting today for the first time since the Japanese occupied Shanhaiwan, the League of Nations assembly committee on the Sino-Japan conflict admitted the possibility of conciliation now is extremely small,
and prepared to adopt a firmer policy with regard to the Japanese program in Manchuria.
After listening to expositions of the recent developments by Sir Eric Drummond, secretary general, and Paul Hymans, of Belgium, the committee agreed to recommend Wednesday for a final attempt to reach a settlement on a conciliatory basis.
Failing that, they decided that the assembly must move from paragraph three, article 15, of the League covenant to paragraph four, which provides for the drafting of a report on such a conflict with recommendations for League action.
Sir Eric disclosed that the so-called tling Japan were not his but were Japan's own proposals which Yotaro Sugimura and Yosuke Matsuoka worked out and transmitted to Tokyo.

Lt. Hudson, 2 Others Suspended by Chief

Three Atlanta policemen were suspended Monday by Chief T. O. Sturdivant and will be heard by the police committee on charges of intoxication at the next meeting. Two of the suspensions grew out of an auto accident in Cobb county Friday night.
Returning from a home trip, Friday Lieutenant E. C. Hudson and Motorcycle Policeman Y. F. Geeslin were in a car which collided near Mableton, with one driven by Ronald T. Smith, 1698 Evans drive, of Atlanta. Mrs. Smith and Geeslin were severely hurt and Hudson and Smith received slight injuries. Hudson and Geeslin are on bond.
Patrolman J. T. Thornburg, the third man suspended, was arrested at DeKalb and Whiteford avenues
Monday afternoon on charges of driving while intoxicated after a citizen had complained that a drunk officer was menacing the neighborhood. He will be given a hearing before the recorder at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon and also will appear before the police committee.

Samuel Insull May Ask Greek Naturalization

ATHENS, Jan. 16.—(UP)—
Samuel Insull, of Chicago, doggedly continued his fight tonight against enforced return to the United States to face charges growing out of the crash of his public utilities empire.
He still had a refuge in Athens, where the Greek authorities were prepared to let him remain at least orders from the department of

ANTI-HOOVER SPLIT LOOKING IN RANKS OF REPUBLICANS

A quiet but determined effort among Republicans to revamp their party organization in project a trio of leading New Yorkers into the forefront of presidential possibilities within the next three years.
This development, however, is dependent largely on whether the old

President Hoover's followers. The Hoover contingent has definitely indicated it desires to remain in power with a view to smoothing the way for the retiring president to accept the

Demands Are Delayed By Bonus Advocates

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(AP)—
Advocates of cash payment of the bonus agreed today to delay for the time being their efforts to obtain approval of such action.
At the conclusion of a meeting called by Representative Patman, democratic ally of the former president, the group of advocates "reaffirmed unanimously" their belief that the best method of expanding the currency was by paying the bonus.
No final action in favor of this proposal was taken, however. The members present authorized Patman to call another meeting later when it may be easier to determine what might happen to other currency inflation proposals.
Estimates of attendance at the meeting varied from 35 to 75.

PLIGHT OF FARMERS STRESSED IN REPORT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—
(UP)—Poverty has forced the suddenly during recent years of nearly 10 per cent of American farms, the agriculture department reported today.
Mortgage foreclosures or sales to avoid them, bankruptcy, default of contract, and other unfortunate pressure caused 9 1/2 per cent of the nation's farms to change hands in the five-year period ending March 1, 1932, the department estimated.
More than 13 of every 1,000 farms were sold last year because of inability by their owners to pay back taxes, the department reported. This was an increase of approximately six forced sales per thousand over the preceding year when only about seven farms out of 1,000 changed hands because of tax delinquencies.

By F. G. VOSBURGH.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(AP)—
The directing hand at President-elect Roosevelt appeared behind a comprehensive program of agricultural relief tonight as the house voted new millions of federal credit for the farmer and prepared to protect his acres against mortgage foreclosures.
When Mr. Roosevelt personally sought to remove snags from the senate path of the much-discussed "domestic allotment" bill for boosting farm prices, the house under the domination of the vice president-elect, Speaker Garner, passed a bill to provide $75,000,000 for 1933 crop protection loans.
Already approved by the senate, the bill was taken up and passed in speedy fashion under a "suspension of rules" procedure. Only adjustment of minor differences in the senate and house versions remained between the bill and the White House.
Senate circles buzzed with conjecture, however, as Mr. Roosevelt definitely took a hand in the legislative fate of the "domestic allotment" bill by summoning to the White House a hurried conference the ranking democratic member of the

SMITH ASKS CUTS IN FARM MEASURE

By FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON.
NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Restriction of the new farm bill to the nation's two big money crops—wheat and cotton—was suggested tonight by Senator Smith, of South Carolina, after a conference with President-elect Roosevelt.
Senator Smith, who is ranking democrat of the agriculture committee, hastened here for the Roosevelt party
after postponing democratic action on the "parity plan" measure just received by the senate from the house.
Intimating that the plan for restriction of the legislation to wheat and cotton was talked over with Mr.
Roosevelt, the senator made no attempt to commit the president-elect and said he was leaving full responsibility for details of the bill to congress.
The South Carolinian predicted passage of the farm bill at this session of congress but he would hazard no guess on the probabilities of enactment if President Hoover should re-ignite it.

Georgia Farmer's Wife Is Mysteriously Shot

JONESBORO, Ga., Jan. 16.—(AP)
A coroner's jury tonight returned a verdict that Mrs. L. A. Evans, wife of a farmer living near here, came to her death "at the hands of persons unknown."
Mrs. Evans' body was found, with two bullet wounds, in her home last night by her husband and her father, John Lamb, who had spent most of the day in Atlanta. Doctors said that either of the shots, one in the head and one in the chest, would have caused death. Near her body was a revolver.
There was no evidence of a disturbance in the home. The jury was told that Mrs. Evans had been in ill health for some time.

Time for Soviet Pact 'Not Ripe', Says Tokyo

MOSCOW, Jan. 16.—(AP)—In answering the soviet government's proposal for a non-aggression pact, Japan has countered with the declaration that the time for such an agreement is not ripe.
Japan suggested, however, the establishment of a three-power commission representing Japan, soviet Russia and Manchuria, for the purpose of regulating by local means of difficulties which may arise in connection with the contact of troops of the nations and for preventing border incidents.
This was interpreted as a categorical refusal to sign the pact. The soviet government, however, while expressing regret over Japan's stand, declared its willingness to discuss the Japanese counter-proposal.

Foreclosure Delay Asked in U. S. Bill

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(AP)— Legislation to authorize a federal judge to postpone final judgment from one to three years on real estate foreclosures where defendants show they have a possibility of meeting their obligations within periods not exceeding three years was proposed today by Representative McSwain, democrat, South Carolina.
The measure was referred to the judiciary committee by Speaker Garner. It would empower the judge to require the defendants to account from time to time for all cash received and paid out, and if any funds are available, to direct the payment of interest on their debts.
All creditors would be required to submit their claims, and the court would have the power to enjoin them from instituting another action, in order to protect the rights of all creditors.

Hoover Delays Message On Budgetary Matters

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(AP)—
Theodore Joslin, secretary to President Hoover, told newspapermen late today that Mr. Hoover had decided against issuing a statement on fiscal and budgetary matters today, the possibility of which had been indicated earlier by Secretary Mills. Joslin indicated that Mr. Hoover would not definitely issue a statement or message before tomorrow.

Two Women Shot, Youth Held, As Result of Pet Dog's Barking

Two women were shot and a young man was being held in jail under bond Monday night as the result of a pet dog barking so loudly that neighbors could not sleep.
Miss Maude Watkins, about 40, of 685 Peoples street, was wounded in both legs, and Miss Louise Barnes, of 700 Oglethorpe avenue, received a scalp wound when both were shot by E. C. Bradberry, 21, of 679 Peoples street, according to police reports.
The Columbus Enquirer reports the occupants of the house could not sleep.
Miss Watkins, attempting to quiet the dog, was in the back yard of the Bradberry residence and was mistaken for young Bradberry for a burglar.
He fired at her once, the shot taking effect in both legs. Several stray

MEASURES ASKING $3 TAGS OFFERED IN HOUSE, SENATE

Bills Cause Comment,
Bring Predictions of Big
Cut in Rates; Talmadge
Backers on Committees.

By L. A. FARRELL.
As companion bills providing for Governor Eugene Talmadge's request for a flat $3 tag were introduced in the senate and house of representatives Monday, it became evident, when committee assignments in the lower houses of the assembly were announced by Speaker E. D. Rivers, that the proposals of the new administration would be given immediate action.

Strong Talmadge supporters were given the chairmanships of the house's most important committees.
The introduction of the tag cut bills caused considerable comment among members of the legislature. Though, of course, it could not be established definitely how the proposal finally will be disposed of, it was generally predicted that a reduction would be ordered to the effect that owners of small and low-priced cars would pay $3 for a tag, those owning medium sized and medium priced cars would pay $5 and $8, while those owning larger and expensive cars would pay about $10 for a tag.

The auto tag bills were presented by Senator J. P. Sisk, of Eufaula, in the upper branch of the legislature, and by Representatives Batchelor, of Putnam county, and Wilson, of Murphy county, in the house.
The Sisk bill provides the $3 tag only for passenger cars and for light trucks, and for heavy trucks only when used for the transfer of agricultural products. Under the provisions of this bill trucks of five and six ton capacity would pay $375 annually for a tag and those of seven ton capacity and heavier would pay $1,125.

Wilson proposed the tags for all vehicles are to be sold for $3.
Though a resolution to give all Talmadge bills precedence over other matters was defeated by a viva voce vote after it was made clear that the house, if it adopted the proposal, was waiving the powers of the rules committee, it became certain that administration matters would be given the front rank when Speaker Rivers announced his intention to which are scheduled to begin work today.

As predicted in Sunday's editions of

GERMANS PREPARE TO ENLARGE ARMY

BERLIN, Jan. 16.—(AP)—A government spokesman today disclosed that Germany is preparing to enlarge the army by 100,000 men, and to reorganize the system of universal military training.
The speech Sunday of Chancellor Von Schleicher, reiterating Germany's demand for arms equality, the spokesman said, was a notification to the world and to Germany that there is a determination to replace the Reichs-wehr (the German standing army)
with a militia in which all citizens must serve.

In his speech Sunday Chancellor Van Schleicher said that "our opponents knew that they struck at Germany's very marrow when they declared her defenseless and a second-rate people."
He spoke of the treaty of Versailles, which stipulated that the German army be comprised not more than seven divisions of infantry and three divisions of cavalry, a maximum of 100,000 men, including officers.

The treaty also stipulated that the Reichswehr must confine itself exclusively to maintaining order within the country.

House Favors Purchase Of American Goods

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(AP)—
The house today passed and sent to the senate the Wilson bill directing the government to purchase American produced supplies and materials for its use.
The measure, by Representative Wilson, democrat, Louisiana, specifically directed the use of American products in all federal buildings and works.
It was taken up under suspension of the rules, which required a two-thirds vote for passage.

Aimee Denied Delay In Suit on Illness Plea

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 16.—(AP)— Aimee Semple McPherson-Hutton, evangelist, today was denied a six-months' continuance of the $1,000 salary suit brought against her and her husband, David L. Hutton, by Roy L. Watkins.
Attorneys for Watkins presented a score of affidavits in opposition to the pleas of her attorney for postponement on account of illness.
The affidavits set forth that the evangelist appeared well enough to leave the temple, go for drives, and visit the federal building to apply for a passport.
Trial of the suit was set for February 15. Watkins is suing for money alleged to be due for services as an investigator in connection with the Myrtle St. Pierre breach of promise suit, in which she won a $5,000 verdict against Hutton.

$100,000 IS ADDED TO SCHOOL FUNDS IN COUNCIL ACTION

Final Decision on Sheet
Deferred. Huie-Curtis
Clash Follows Richard's
Plea for Peace.

Voting to anticipate collection of an additional $100,000 from tax fi-as, and allocating that sum to the school department for the year, council Monday afternoon deferred final action on the January finance sheet to an adjourned session to be held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

In addition, the council asked the Georgia assembly to get up a metropolitan sewer district composed of 176 square miles in this district; heard Dr. Noah W. Baird, president of the board of education, in an impassioned plea for additional school funds; requested the state legislature to empower cities, counties and the state to classify property for taxation; defeated a proposal by Coun-cillman John A. White to empower council to elect all department heads;
fix their terms of office and salaries and otherwise conduct the affairs of the government without charter restriction; and reduced the annual license on slot machine distributors from $300 to $150.

The finance committee filed its January sheet, and this was the signal for one of the most heated council clashes in many months. It finally resulted in a near-personal encounter between Alderman Ben T.
Huie and Councilman Raymond Curtis.

After council had voted to defer action and a large part of the gallery of approximately 200 persons, who crowded the council chamber, had left, Curtis obtained the floor a second time and repeated virtually the same statement.

If Mr. Huie wants to make this a personal matter, he can just meet me outside, he said.

Columbus Woman Wins Post in Legislature

COLUMBUS, Ga., Jan. 16.—(AP)— Incomplete and unofficial returns of today's special election showed Mrs.
Wheeler Tolbert, prominent club-woman of Columbus, winner in the race for representative from Musco-ge county to succeed the late Charles J. Meredith.
Unofficial returns, with two small protests missing, showed Mrs. Tolbert 895 votes, with the runner-up, B. O.
Rinison, with 502. Other candidates were G. E. Smith and A. A. Satala.
The Columbus Enquirer reports the votes from the missing precincts would not change the result.
Mrs. Tolbert will be the first woman from Muscogee county to represent her people in the capacity of representative.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(AP)—
The rigid shackles of Senator Long's filibuster were loosened tonight to permit an early vote on passing the Philippines independence bill over President Hoover's veto and the senate recessed with an agreement for limited debate.

With advocates of the measure predicting victory by a few votes, it was agreed the senate would meet an hour earlier than usual tomorrow and that each senator would be restricted to a half hour of talking after Senator Cutting, of New Mexico, completes a speech already begun.

Senator Watson, of Indiana, the senate's republican leader, proposed the agreement when it seemed certain that the senate, intent upon reaching a vote, was heading into its first real night meeting since the session began.
Long, who favors the bill, announced emphatically that although he was relaxing his filibuster against the Glass banking reform bill to allow a vote on the Philippines measure, his opposition to the former was undiminished. The filibuster, already five days old, will be resumed, he said, after the senate has voted on the island issue.

A threat to invoke cloture to limit debate on the Philippine question.

"NOT CONSTIPATED FOR SEVEN WEEKS"

Writes Mrs. Johnson After Using Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Sufferers from constipation will be interested in this unsolicited letter:

"Your ALL-BRAN surely relieves constipation. I am so glad over the good it has done me that I feel I must write and tell you of it."

"For lunch I take a banana, a large one. Six tablespoons of ALL-BRAN in a sauce dish, and dip banana at each bite until all is consumed. I haven't been constipated now for seven weeks."—Mrs. Louise Johnson, 1433 Forest Street, Denver, Colorado.

Constipation often causes headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sleeplessness. This condition is usually due to lack of "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further promote regular habits. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has both, as well as iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, it clears out the wastes.

Try ALL-BRAN in place of patent medicines—often harmful. Two tablespoons daily will overcome most types of constipation. Chronic cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Use as a cereal, or in cooking. Recipes on the red-and-green package. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Fellowship, Team Work Needed, Carmody Tells K. of C. Members

"Never has there been more need of that spirit of fellowship, of neighborliness, of team work that fraternity teaches," Martin J. Carmody, supreme knight of the Knights of Columbus, Monday night told members of Atlanta Council No. 660 and their guests at the Knights of Columbus hall, 1200 Peachtree street.

Mr. Carmody, who has been touring the entire country and meeting with local councils, was entertained Monday night at dinner at K. C. hall. He came to Atlanta from New Orleans, and will go from here in Philadelphia.

Splendid progress is being made in the membership drive of the organization, Mr. Carmody reported at the dinner. Among prominent men who met the supreme knight were: J. Coleman Dempsey, of Augusta, past state deputy; John Buckley, grand knight of Augusta; John J. McCreary, of Macon, district deputy; M. J. McCarty, of Savannah, district deputy; John F. Glass, of Savannah, grand knight; J. J. Harvey, Atlanta layman; A. Baumstark, of Atlanta, state deputy.

C. L. McGowan, of Atlanta, grand knight; the Rev. Father J. J. McGrath, pastor of Sacred Heart church; the Father Michael D. Larkin, chaplain of Atlanta Council No. 660; the Rev. Father Philip Wagnon, head of the Marist College, and the Rev. Father H. F. Clark, of St. Anthony's parish.

Music for the K. C. hall meeting was directed by Mrs. Mae McAlpin, who was assisted by Miss Irene Harvey. "Our present duty is clearly outlined," said Mr. Carmody. "In common with all well-thinking citizens, the Knights of Columbus accept its responsibility during the present condition of unemployment, and has placed more than 100,000 men in positions and jobs. Every organization with every man assumes its full responsibility and does its full duty."

"Men are now conscious of their dependence on a power beyond themselves. The spirit of charity and unity should be exercised as never before, and I appeal to the Knights of Columbus that in no particular shall we fail to give practical expression to the fraternity we teach. This is our present responsibility and service."

Shaw's Letter to U. S. Biographer Brings $2,400 at Collection Sale

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—(AP)—The Archibald Henderson collection of letters, manuscripts and books from the pungent pen of George Bernard Shaw, brought a total of $7,887 at an auction sale today.

The highest price paid for a single item was $2,400 for a 54-page letter in the Irish playwright's own pen hand. Gabriel Wells, professional rare book collector, was the successful bidder.

This letter, written to Professor Henderson in 1905, is virtually an autobiography and forms the basis of Henderson's first book about Shaw's life and works. Since then the North Carolina mathematics professor has published seven volumes on the subject.

Bidding for the 12,500-word letter, which required Shaw 14 days to write, started at $300 and mounted rapidly to $1,100, where it hung for a moment. Then, at slight nods of the bidders' heads, it mounted quickly to $2,400.

Only once during the two hours of the sale was the monotonous regularity of the bidding for Shaw's letter broken by a ripple of laughter. That was when the auctioneer was heard to intone "damn Bernard Shaw and his tedious doings and sayings," and a few non-professionals in the audience failed to realize he was quoting from one of Shaw's own letters.

Other items in the collection, which totaled 204 entries and was described by the American Art Association Anderson Galleries, where the sale was conducted, as the largest in America,

Virginia Editor Blames Depression On 'Unbridled Competitive System'

The south has inherited a strong spirit of individualism of which it is rightly proud, but, unfortunately, unless this individualism is combined with the sectional high-powered industries, the result "bids fair to be another mess like the one we now are in," Stringfellow Barr, editor of the Virginia Quarterly Review, said Monday night.

Dr. Barr spoke before an audience of several hundred Monday night at the Y. W. C. A. auditorium on Auburn avenue, as the first lecturer in a series of eight. His subject was "The American Scene—1932." He elaborated particularly on the economic situation as seen through southern eyes.

In his lecture, Dr. Barr asserted that the traditionalist and the go-getter were warring forces in the south, the former wishing to retain all the individualism inherited from his agricultural forebears, and the latter desiring to make the south principally industrial. A happy medium must be reached as the cure, he said.

The editor thinks that the greatest wrong of the present system of industry is the irresponsibility of the factory owners to their employees. He contrasted industrialists with the old-time planters with their slaves, protecting them in lean years, believing in making a living instead of making money. The distinct individualism of the typical southerner is felt by all outsiders coming to the south and is in explainable, he asserted. Individualism carried too far is worse than collectivism, he said.

Dr. Barr is a professor of history at the University of Virginia as well as being an editor, gave a general picture of the situation in the south, with incoming factories which were at first greeted, then not so warmly, told of the desire of many southerners to remain "with their feet on the ground," and related the progress, if one calls it that, made during the "wild 1920's." Dr. D. P. McGeachy, chairman of the Citizenship Lecture Committee, which sponsored Dr. Barr's lecture, presided. A forum followed the speech.

In an interview upon his arrival in Atlanta Monday afternoon, the young editor said that until this depression came along the south's industrialization had progressed rapidly. And, presumably, he added, "when this depression has come away this condition of industrial progress will be resumed."

"I agree with men like Stuart Chase," he said, "in diagnosing this depression as the fruit of an unbridled competitive system, plus high-

GEORGE IS APPOINTED ON INFLATION GROUP

Senate Committee To Recommend Way to Revalue Dollar.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Formation of a special committee of 27 senators to recommend a way of devaluing the dollar was proposed today in a resolution by Senator Thomas, democrat, Oklahoma, one of the senate's advocates of inflation of the currency.

In the resolution, which was referred to the banking committee for consideration, the committee's object was given as:

"To consider the present value of the dollar with relation to taxes, interest and debts and to make recommendations and report a plan or plans for reducing the value of such dollar."

Membership of the committee includes Smith, South Carolina; George, Georgia; Bankhead, Alabama; Long, Louisiana; Bailey, North Carolina; Mrs. Caraway, Arkansas; and Reynolds, North Carolina.

The resolution contained that in 1920 the congress exercised its power to regulate money through the activities of the federal reserve system, and that the buying power of the dollar now was upward of $2.

It asserted federal, state and local governments could no longer exist economically with the dollar at that value.

Propellerless Plane Invented by German

BERLIN, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Adolf Rohrbach informed associates today that he, after the years of experimenting, had completed plans for the construction of a crash-proof, propellerless airplane which he expects to be in the air some time this year.

It is an all-metal plane, similar to the ordinary monoplane, but with multiple wings and a transverse axis whereby both propelling and lifting power are generated. It carries an ordinary airplane motor.

The claim that the plane is crash-proof, Rohrbach said, is based on a technical control of centrifugal forces whereby the machine cannot be overstrained by sudden maneuvers.

STRICKEN AT WHEEL, W. L. PENN, 49, DIES

Stricken with a heart attack while driving his car on Capitol avenue, W. L. Penn, 49, of 232 Thirteenth street, N. E., was dead when he was taken to the Georgia Baptist hospital Monday afternoon. His machine hit a telephone pole after his seizure but he was not injured, it was said.

Mr. Penn was a representative of the Atlanta Milling Company and had been in its employ for the last 15 years. Officials of the company said he had been complaining of feeling ill for several days, but had continued work.

According to witnesses, Mr. Penn was driving slowly when he was seen to slump suddenly in the seat. The car struck a pole but was not badly damaged. An ambulance was summoned and Mr. Penn was taken to the hospital, but he was dead for several minutes before arrival, it was said.

He is survived by his wife; a daughter, Miss Alice Lee Penn; a sister, Mrs. H. B. Foshee, of Jacksonville, Fla., and a brother, Kenneth Penn, also of Jacksonville.

The body was taken to the establishment of H. M. Patterson & Son, who will announce funeral arrangements.

Other ministers are Andreas Michalopoulos, foreign minister; M. George Maris, interior; George Kafandaris, finance; M. Papandreu, communications; Alexander Papanastasiou, agriculture and national economy; M. Gisis, public welfare; General Katschakes, war, and M. Kyndouros, marine and aviation.

Among those at the funeral services were Charles Chaplin, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Goldwyn, Joseph Schenck, Lew Cody, Norman Kerry, Douglas Fairbanks and Douglas Fairbanks Jr.

Interment was in a crypt here next to that of the mother, Mrs. Charlotte Pickford, who died in 1928.

VIRGINIAN EXONERATED IN STATE SOLON'S DEATH

FAIRFAX, Va., Jan. 16.—(AP)—A special Fairfax county circuit court grand jury today refused to indict Lewis Ritchie, 21, who had been charged with felonious homicide in the death of former State Senator Walter Tamm Oliver.

Oliver died November 23, 24 hours after his skull was fractured in a fall alleged to have been the result of a fight from young Ritchie's fist.

Oliver was alleged to have used abusive language about Ritchie's sister.

3 NATIONS OPPOSE 40-HOUR WORK WEEK

Employment Situation Is in Path of Disarmament, Says German.

GENEVA, Switzerland, Jan. 16.—(AP)—The improbability that the international conference on unemployment would approve a convention for a 40-hour week increased today when French, Polish and Canadian employers' delegations opposed it.

R. Goldier, Canadian delegate, described Canada's special situation. He said manufacturers have been using the spread work method to a great extent but without maintaining the full weekly wage and at a sacrifice to both workers and employers.

To maintain wages, the Canadian said, while reducing hours, would be to increase manufacturing cost and selling price, and would tend to reduce sales, thus increasing unemployment.

Ernst Lemmer, German workers' delegate, told the conference that the problem of disarmament cannot be solved until unemployment has been dealt with.

"So long as the youth of Europe is without work and ready to join any militarist organization which can provide occupation, the question of disarmament will not be solved," he said.

Mills Warns Congress To Balance Budget

MILLS WARNS CONGRESS TO BALANCE BUDGET

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(UP)—Secretary of Treasury Ogden L. Mills tonight warned congress that the federal budget must be balanced immediately.

"The need is obvious," he said in a speech here. "There is no excuse for further delay."

Mills declared it would be "extremely difficult" to balance the budget without adoption by congress of a general manufacturers' excise tax.

"No matter how good its credit," the secretary said, "no government can afford to go on living beyond its means, year after year. It is demoralizing."

MUSSOLINI, STALIN LAUDED FOR IDEAS BY LLOYD GEORGE

LONDON, Jan. 16.—(UP)—Mussolini and Stalin are the only men who grasp what is occurring today in a world "whirling toward catastrophe," but unfortunately the leaders of the Italian and Russian governments "have insufficient resources," David Lloyd George said today on the eve of his 70th birthday.

The fiery Welshman discussed past events, present problems and his own political future with a special correspondent of the New Chronicle at Greenwich, a Welsh watering place.

Lloyd George had no praise for the present national government of Great Britain, which he was attacked by Premier Bennett of Canada, defied by Japan, and bullied by the United States.

"The United States government was moribund, like a wasp when the summer has passed, with just one sting left in its tail," Lloyd George said. "And the government stung us badly, to the extent of 30,000,000 pounds."

The News-Chronicle said Lloyd George was a picture of mental and physical fitness.

IOWA ORDERS HALT IN FORECLOSURES BY BANK RECEIVERS

DES MOINES, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Receivers for 348 closed Iowa banks today had orders from L. A. Andrews, state superintendent of banking, not to hold any more farm real estate or chattel mortgage foreclosure sales until prices were higher.

In making the announcement, Andrews said that he hoped the state would establish a precedent for other mortgage-holding agencies.

He said it would be impossible for him to estimate the amount of collectible paper held by the receivers for the closed banks.

Meanwhile in Wisconsin and Nebraska governmental agencies were taking steps to aid the harassed farmer.

Many Wisconsin circuit court judges were ready to follow Governor Schmedeman's suggestion that they refrain from enforcing the law on foreclosures.

SUPREME COURT SILENCES SHULER AS BROADCASTER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(AP)—The voice of Station KGEF, organ of the outspoken Los Angeles minister, the Rev. Robert P. Shuler, was muted for good today by a supreme court ruling.

The court upheld lower court decisions ordering KGEF off the air, because of Shuler's broadcasts, by refusing to review an appeal in the case.

The order of the radio commission closing Shuler's station, operated by his church, Trinity Methodist, South, figured in the campaign which Shuler made for the United States senate in November, running as a prohibitionist.

He received over 500,000 votes but was third in the field, William G. McAdoo winning the seat now held by Senator Samuel Shortridge.

PHILADELPHIA BUDGET IS SIGNED BY MAYOR

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Mayor J. Hampton Moore today signed the city-county 1933 budget, calling for approximately $12,000,000 less in expenditures than in 1932.

The 1933 budget now totals $81,417,113.

Municipal and county employees, unpaid since the first of the year because of controversy over the budget, now are expected to get two pay cuts—minus 10 to 23 per cent wage reductions voted in the measure.

Simple Burial Held For Wealthy Farmer

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., Jan. 16.—(AP)—Lon Milton Tague, 80-year-old bachelor-farmer, has been buried in a walnut casket carried to the grave by a two-horse wagon, but he left behind a reputed $125,000 fortune, no immediate relatives and a safe with no known combination.

The aged man lived a quiet and secluded life near Sedgwick Garden, conducting successful farming operations until he became ill several weeks ago.

Saturday morning he died. Yesterday he was buried at Friedland Moravian church and the funeral cortege was headed by the wagon bearing the casket in the manner he expressed a desire for before his death.

There are no known near relatives, but several cousins survive.

'Sidewalks of New York' Author, Jobless, Is Aided by Al Smith

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Alfred B. Smith, who toured the nation in the 1928 presidential campaign to the tune of "The Sidewalks of New York," today figuratively passed around his brown derby to aid the man who wrote the song.

As soon as word reached the former governor that James W. Blake, the author, now 70 years old and destitute, was homeless on the sidewalks his blitting song helped immortalize, he got busy.

"That's one case that will be attended to—and at once," said Smith. He called the unemployment bureau and officials there promised to set about finding a job and shelter for the aged man.

Blake wrote the song which begins "East side, west side—all around the town," many years ago and the late Charles B. Lawlor provided the melody. It was introduced from a Rowerly stage and immediately swept the land.

The author had been employed as a salesman with the same firm for 12 years, but lost his position last year. Since then he has been looking for something to do. His savings were consumed in supporting a sister and a blind brother and he had to give up his Bronx home several months ago.

He moved into a dollar-a-day hotel and continued his search for work, but yesterday his last penny was gone and he had to go back to his "sidewalks."

Doctors said it likely would be several days before they could determine results of the transfusion. The blood was furnished by Miss McGuire's step-father, Peter Miley.

Dr. W. J. Poits said if no noticeable results were obtained from the transfusion, he would ask persons who have had sleeping sickness and who have recovered to volunteer their blood for another transfusion.

He had to go back to his "sidewalks."

Girl, Asleep 11 Months, Given Blood Transfusion

CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Miss Patricia McGuire, 27, Oak Park, who went to sleep 11 months ago today and has remained in a coma since from sleeping sickness, Sunday was given a blood transfusion in efforts to arouse her.

Girl, Asleep 11 Months, Given Blood Transfusion

CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Miss Patricia McGuire, 27, Oak Park, who went to sleep 11 months ago today and has remained in a coma since from sleeping sickness, Sunday was given a blood transfusion in efforts to arouse her.

Doctors said it likely would be several days before they could determine results of the transfusion. The blood was furnished by Miss McGuire's step-father, Peter Miley.

Dr. W. J. Poits said if no noticeable results were obtained from the transfusion, he would ask persons who have had sleeping sickness and who have recovered to volunteer their blood for another transfusion.

He had to go back to his "sidewalks."

DRIVERS' LICENSE MEASURE DRAFTED

Bill Sponsored by Junior Chamber Will Be Introduced Today.

Sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, a measure will be introduced in the house of representatives today providing that all drivers of motor vehicles shall first obtain licenses before operating such vehicles on state highways of Georgia. The bill will be introduced in the lower house after a conference between members of the legislative committee of the Jaycees, of which W. A. Ward Jr., is chairman, and members of the general assembly.

As prepared for introduction, the measure not only will provide that all automobile and truck drivers first shall obtain licenses, but will contain provisions for revocation of such drivers' licenses in certain cases; the denial of issuance in certain instances of disqualification for physical or other purposes; and a permit system whereby licenses are gradually may be suspended or revoked.

The measure, which has been the aim of the Junior Chamber of Commerce for more than a year, likewise will provide for punishment for violation of the provisions of the act and for the creation of the office of a motor vehicle operator's and chauffeurs' licenses department.

Among the provisions of the measure to be sponsored by the Jaycees measure are those which assert that: "An operator's license shall not be issued to any person under the age of 15 years, and no chauffeur's license shall be issued to any person under the age of 15 years. In the event a chauffeur is engaged in the operation of a school bus or is driving a motor vehicle employed as a public passenger-carrying vehicle, said chauffeur must qualify under Section 6 of this act."

"The department shall not issue an operator's or chauffeur's license to any person whose license, either as operator or chauffeur, has been annulled; nor to any person whose license, either as operator or chauffeur, has been revoked under the provisions of this act until the expiration of one year after such license was revoked."

"The department shall not issue an operator's or chauffeur's license to any person who has been determined to be an habitual drunkard or addicted to the use of narcotic drugs."

"No operator's or chauffeur's license shall be issued to any applicant who has previously been adjudged insane or an idiot, imbecile, epileptic or feeble-minded, and who has not at the time of such application been restored to competency by judicial decree or released from a hospital for the insane or feeble-minded, and who has not at the time of such application been declared by the superintendent that such person is competent, nor then unless the department is satisfied that such person is competent to operate a motor vehicle with safety to persons and property."

Further provision is made that the department "shall examine the applicant as to his physical and mental qualifications to operate a motor vehicle in such manner as not to jeopardize the safety of persons or property and as to whether any facts exist which would bar the issuance of a license under Section 5 of this act and that a commissioner shall be named, and such commissioner is hereby authorized to designate sheriffs, chiefs of police, town marshals, or to appoint other persons within this state to act for the department for the purpose of examining applicants for operators' and chauffeurs' licenses."

How to End Painful Piles Without Salves or Cutting.

It takes only one bottle of Dr. J. S. Leonard's prescription—HEM-ROID—to prove how easy it is to end itching, bleeding or protruding piles. This internal remedy acts quickly even in old, stubborn cases. HEM-ROID succeeds because it heals and restores the affected parts and drives out the thick impure blood in the lower bowel—the cause of piles. Only an internal medicine can do this, that's why salves and suppositories fail. honored. He was the only member of the house to be given a committee chairmanship and be placed on another committee. In addition to heading the labor and labor statistics body he was given a place on the temperance committee, which is headed by Representative Johnston of Upson county.

Heads Aviation Group.

Mr. Hartsfield was chosen to head the new aviation committee because of service in that line while a member of the city council of Atlanta. During his tenure of office as an alderman the chairman served as chairman of the councilmanic committee on aviation and was a pioneer in fostering and promoting the development of Candler field.

The Six measure was one of four introduced in the senate, which was introduced immediately after receiving the bills. President Hamilton McWhorter announced that his committee appointments would be read at Wednesday's session.

In addition to hearing the committee and acting on two resolutions, the house also received another flood of bills Monday, most of them pertaining to local affairs of the members who introduced them.

The second resolution acted on was presented by Mr. Hartsfield. It called upon the attorney-general to submit an opinion as to whether the legislature may adjourn after holding a part of the regular 60-day session set for midsummer, but the start is expected in two days. Under this measure the solicitors-general of the various circuits could file charges without grand jury approval.

Railroad Lease Measure.

Railroads in Georgia, under companion bills introduced in the house and senate, would be permitted to sell or lease their properties to another railroad if the corporation granting the lease "is not a going concern or equipped to conduct the operations of a railroad company."

The bill was introduced in the house by Representatives Kennen, Alexander and Myrick, of Chatham county, and in the senate by George Fetter, of Guyton. The measures were referred to the railroad committees of both houses.

The bill states that "any railroad corporation organized under the laws of the state of Georgia which has heretofore leased its property for a long term of years to another corporation, which provides for the creation of a state highway patrol to be manned by one captain, six lieutenants and 18 patrolmen."

Another measure of statewide importance was that of the Bibb delegation, which provides for elimination of the law which permits the defendant in a criminal case to make an unsworn statement to the jury. The Bibb measure would permit the defendant to take the stand if he desired but would lay him open to cross-examination.

The Bibb delegation also introduced a bill which would permit filing of direct accusations against alleged criminals in all cases not carrying capital punishment or life imprisonment. As the law now stands all criminal cases must be taken before the grand jury. Under this measure the solicitors-general of the various circuits could file charges without grand jury approval.

Speaker Pro Tem, Ellis Arnall, of the house, to whom Speaker E. D. Rivers assigned the task of interviewing applicants for house jobs, called on the press for aid Monday. "He has been literally swamped by job-seekers. 'Please write in the papers that we now have ten applicants for every job and there is no need for anyone asking for a place, I am sorry to say,' Arnall said. 'The jobs have been gone for a week and no matter who the person is he has no chance of getting on the list.'"

Two bills providing for city-county mergers were offered Monday in the house. One was presented by the Bibb delegation and calls for unification of the governmental functions of the city of Macon and Bibb county. The second was presented by the Dougherty delegation and calls for unification of the functions of the city of Albany and Dougherty county. The bills were sent to the committee on county and county matters.

Members of the Civic Club of Atlanta this afternoon will hear Senator J. T. Sisk, of Elberton, 30th district, discuss proposed sales tax legislation. The Civilians will meet at the Athletic Club. A resolution calling upon congress to establish a new system of currency under its constitutional powers in an effort to remedy economic conditions has been drawn by Senator John M. Hutcheson, of Lafayette, 40th district, and J. Ira Harrelson, Atlanta attorney, for introduction in the senate today. The resolution declares that "it is apparent that the prophecies of such philosophers and statesmen as Andrew Jackson, William Jennings Bryan and others have proved to be true" and that "the gold standard has enriched the few and impoverished the many." The resolution says that "in order that prosperity may be restored almost overnight, and the progress of our nation may continue..." Congress is petitioned to increase the amount of currency by $50,000,000.

$22,000,000 OUTLINED FOR NORTH CAROLINA

Drastic Reduction in Expenditures Advocated by Budget Group.

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 16.—(AP)—Appropriations totaling $22,000,000 for the biennium beginning July 1, as compared with $104,215,000 expended during the present biennium, were recommended to the North Carolina legislature tonight in a report of the budget commission transmitted by Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus.

The commission recommended sharp increases in practically all existing tax levies, except the personal income tax, and the 15-cent levy for schools, which it assumed would be eliminated, and suggested the diversion of $2,000,000 a year from state highway funds to general purposes as an emergency measure.

In his covering message, the governor took exception to the proposal for general increases in taxes, advocating instead drastic cuts in appropriations. He refused to approve the proposed diversion of highway monies.

Sales Record for Past 54 Months Is Announced

Dayton, Ohio, January 3, 1933.—A record of achievement which is possibly without parallel in business history was revealed here today when officials of the Sargol Laboratories, Inc., reported that fifty-four months ago their medicines, Sargol and Sargol Soft Mass Pills, were first placed on the market, and that up to date 7,417,428 packages of these two medicines have been sold.

In explanation of this truly remarkable record Mr. J. J. Gibson, Secretary of the Company, said: "We spent two years' time and a considerable fortune in developing these medicines before they were placed on the market, and we had good reason to believe that as soon as the public became acquainted with their effects there would be a very large demand for them. This is what we have had during the past fifty-four months."

"An evidence of this," he continued, "thousands upon thousands of individual endorsements have literally poured in from all parts of the country, and we are shipping our medicines throughout the United States, Canada, and Hawaiian Islands, Porto Rico, the Philippine Islands, Cuba, Jamaica, and several Central American countries. Only yesterday we received an order from Nice, France, indeed, a large part of our business comes from sections where our advertising has never appeared. This indicates that people who use our medicines are writing or telling their friends about them."

"When asked for a brief statement of what effects Sargol and Sargol Soft Mass Pills have on persons who take them, Mr. Gibson replied, 'These are new medicines and they actually accomplish many things which the older remedies were supposed to do. For instance, it is now conceded by the medical profession that calcium and other laxative drugs have no effect whatever on the liver. Our medicines actually stimulate the liver to cleanse itself by increasing its production of bile. Sargol and Sargol Soft Mass Pills also promote general glandular activity; build up the red blood cells, and correct the most prevalent causes of indigestion and constipation and the many ailments resulting from these disorders.'"

Returning to the capital tonight to begin hearings preliminary to writing of the state appropriation bill, the house ways and means committee was confronted with an official statement showing an operating deficit for last year of $489,610.75.

The deficit was explained as due to failure of income taxes to reach expected levels. Previously, the state had accumulated a deficit of $5,000,000, for retirement of which the 1932 legislature pledged a two and one-half mill levy on real property.

The committee was instructed by the house to hold the appropriation total to $5,000,000, as compared with $9,500,000 appropriated last year, and $6,500,000 recommended for this year by the budget commission.

State's Hands Tied In Extradition Case

Because Georgia cannot issue requests for extradition of a criminal who is not under arrest, the state prison commission is "powerless" to act in the case of Jesse Crawford, escaped negro convict who was released last week in Michigan on a writ of habeas corpus, according to Judge Vivian Stanley, of the prison commission.

The governor of Michigan denied Georgia's request for extradition of Crawford, contending that the requisition papers were not in proper form.

Y., Jan. 16.—(AP)—The senate of the New York legislature tonight unanimously passed a bill calling for the creation of a commission to study and recommend machinery for the sale and distribution of wines and beer if legalized by congress and for the procedure to be followed in event the state is called upon to vote on repeal of the 18th amendment.

The legislation requested by Governor Lehman, calls for the selection of a commission of nine members to consider methods of distributing and selling beer and wines.

HERNDON'S DEMURRER OVERRULED BY JUDGE

With all preliminary legal skirmishes out of the way, the trial of Angelo Herndon, of Cincinnati, alleged negro communist, which started Monday, will see the drawing of a jury this morning and the hearing of evidence in Fulton superior court. He is being tried on a charge of attempting to incite to insurrection, which, under Georgia law, carries the death penalty on conviction.

The case opened before Judge Lee B. Wyatt, of LaGrange, presiding as a visiting judge, Monday afternoon. Ben J. Davis Jr. and John H. Greer, negro attorneys for the defense, offered a demurrer to the indictment charging unconstitutional, and a motion to dismiss the case on the grounds that negroes are excluded from the grand and petit juries. After hearing from witnesses and hearing argument on these points, both the motion and the demurrer were overruled.

Testimony concerning jury lists was offered by J. W. Simmons, clerk of the court; Colonel Fred J. Paxson, George Sims and Major Oscar Palmour, jury commissioners; Gordon Hardy, deputy sheriff, and Judge E. L. Thomas, county judge. Assistant Solicitors John Hudson, Walter Lett and Ed A. Stephens are prosecuting the case for the state.

The Atlanta Bakers' Club held its annual banquet at the Ansley hotel Monday night, at which officers for 1933 were installed, and talks were made by Mayor James L. Key and others.

The officers installed were J. R. Henderson, of the Pillsbury Flour Mills Co., president; Howard Fisch, Highland Bakery, vice president, and Frank Rowser, secretary and treasurer. Joe Brown conducted the installation.

A talk was made by L. M. Collins, president of the Collins Baking Company, the retiring president of the club and Mayor Key.

Attention was called to the fact that the bakers in the club gave 416,000 loaves of bread to the needy of Atlanta during the past 15 months. WOMAN, 63, FREED FROM PACE BOND AND SON LECTURED

Mrs. Claudia M. Butler, 63, Monday was released from a peace bond under which she had been held at Fulton tower for more than a week, when a hearing was held before Judge Luther Z. Rosser in municipal court of Atlanta.

The warrant was obtained against Mrs. Butler by her son, Rutledge P. Butler, 311 North Mercer avenue, College Park, a clerk for the telephone company.

The son failed in an attempt to obtain a lunacy warrant against his mother and then obtained a peace bond on the grounds that his mother is dangerous and violent.

Judge Rosser Monday gave him a lecture on his duty to his mother and said that he should care for her at home. He dismissed the warrant.

The son, according to court officials, refused to take her to his home but said he would contribute to her upkeep. A woman whose name was withheld offered a home for Mrs. Butler.

SEIZURE OF FURNITURE TO BE AIDED THURSDAY

Whether an officer, in making a raid for liquor, may confiscate household and other property, will be decided at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the preliminary hearing before Judge of the Peace W. J. Langley of Chief of Police A. W. Lilly, of DeKalb county, who was placed under technical arrest last week.

On a possessory warrant sworn out against him by the wife of O. B. Wright, said by DeKalb police to be a home brewer, the home of Wright was raided several months ago and, police records show, a large still and several hundred gallons of mash were confiscated.

In her possessory warrant, Mrs. Wright charges that Chief Lilly took several articles of household furniture, personal clothing and other possessions for which the law of confiscation makes no provisions. The hearing before Judge Langley will determine whether such articles were confiscated, and if so, whether a Georgia officer legally may seize such possessions during a liquor raid.

Most of the talk will be illustrated with charts, showing the various facts for management guidance. The address will be followed by a talking picture made by the Coca-Cola Company to show how the national drug store survey by the United States department of commerce can be applied to make a store successful. Salesmen, accountants and store owners are invited.

Today's temperatures will range from a low mark of 42 to a maximum of about 60 degrees, he said. Monday's mercury range was from 41 to 57 degrees. A cold wave out of the northwest was reported Monday, bringing sub-zero weather and snow in the Rocky mountains and a heavy frost in Thomasville, where the low recorded temperature was 40 degrees. The frost in Atlanta was not heavy except in the outskirts of the city, outside of the smoke area, said Mr. Mindling. A light frost was reported at Jacksonville.

The committee will propose an amendment to a proposal that independent school systems throughout the state be abolished, it was said. The amendment would exempt cities of 250,000 population or over, which means that only the Atlanta system would be exempted if the Georgia assembly decides to pass the recommendations of the state school commission.

STALIN ADVOCATES FARMING REFORMS

Soviet Raps Communist Leaders for Failure of Rural Leadership.

By STANLEY P. RICHARDSON.
MOSCOW, Jan. 16.—(AP)—In a second speech to communist party leaders, made public tonight, Joseph V. Stalin took the party severely to task for the failure of the rural leadership to grasp the newly created problems of agriculture, on which he

Gray Hair

Best Remedy is Made At Home

To halt pint of water add one ounce bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and one-fourth ounce of glycerine. Any drug store can put this up or you can mix it at home at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. It imparts color to streaked, faded or gray hair and makes it soft and glossy. Barbo will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off.—(adv.)

Three Minute Relief From Periodical Pains

It is so unnecessary to suffer month after month from inorganic pains because "B. C." will bring soothing relief in three minutes. "B. C." is prepared by a registered pharmacist, compounded on a different principle from most relief-giving agencies in that it contains several ingredients, used by many physicians, so blended and proportioned as to accomplish in a few minutes what we believe no one else can do. It is so short a time, "B. C." should also be used for the relief of common colds, headaches and neuralgia, muscular aches and pains, reducing fever and for quieting a distressed nervous system without opiates, narcotics or such habit-forming drugs. Get "B. C." in 10c and 25c packages, wherever drugs are sold.—(adv.)

Stop a COLD the First Day!

Taken Promptly, this Four-Way Remedy Will Usually Stop a Cold the First Day and Save You Much Suffering as Well as the Danger of Serious Complications!

The time to stop a cold is before it gets started. Once a cold fastens itself on you, it becomes twice as hard to remove. And a cold lodged in the system may lead to something worse. Don't hope to kill a cold with a remedy by local or external applications. A cold is a germ attack, an internal infection and, as such, calls for internal treatment.

Don't hope to kill a cold, either, with anything except a COLD Remedy. A cure-all is self-deception. Many preparations which people commonly take for a cold actually make the relief of a cold more difficult because these preparations are constipating and also make the system acid.

The Required Effects

The thing to take for a cold or case of grippe is Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine—because it does the four things necessary, in the way that is necessary.

First of all, it opens the bowels, gently but thoroughly—the first step in knocking a cold. Secondly, it kills the cold germs in the system, expels

Chicago Church Drops Plate Passing System

CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—(AP)—A Chicago engineer has inaugurated his plan of abandoning the practice of passing the collection plate in some Chicago churches, sent a letter to the Rev. John C. Evans, rector, of St. Luke's Episcopal church, which was the first to adopt his idea yesterday, when there was a 15 per cent increase in cash offerings. The Rev. John C. Evans, rector, announced the plan would be made permanent.

Under the new method free will offerings are dropped in a box at the door by the worshippers either as they enter or leave.

blames the serious shortcomings in 1932 grain collections. The speech was delivered January 11 before the communist party central committee and the central control committee. The bolshevik chief-tide declared the party heretofore must take leadership of the anti-collective area so as to perfect a new agricultural structure and protect it against anti-soviet elements.

In this he apparently referred to the establishment of political sections at every state farm, machine and tractor station, recently authorized by the party to insure closer control of agriculture.

Asserting that grain collections in 1932 were carried out with "much greater difficulties" than in the previous year despite a better harvest, Stalin cited as the main defects the failure of the comrades to understand the new conditions created last May by the decree allowing peasants to sell their surplus in the open market, their misguided belief that the virtual completion of collectivization meant they could relax their responsibilities, and their inability properly to gauge and meet the new tactics of kulaks and other village anti-soviet elements.

Asserting it was a mistake to think that all the kulaks (independent peasants) had been eliminated, he declared that instead of fighting openly now they were entering collectives clandestinely, where they carry on sabotage while holding responsible positions, and he called for "increased revolutionary vigilance against class enemies."

'DOUBLE CROSS' SEEN BEHIND 'PEN' MURDER

SAN QUENTIN, Cal., Jan. 16.—(AP)—The story of a San Quentin prisoner who was mysteriously stabbed to death in the prison library Saturday, had told of having been a member of a New York kidnapping ring which "cleaned up $50,000" was being checked by authorities here today. The prisoner, authorities said, related that Boyd stated the $50,000 had been split among six of the kidnappers and the other two had been "double-crossed." He allegedly said one of the San Quentin prisoners, "double-crossed" is in San Quentin prison.

J. B. Wells, about 22, of Mount Olive, N. C., is being sought by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Wells, of Mount Olive, according to a letter received by Chief Whitaker, of Hapeville, Monday. The youth spent a night with J. T. Laseer, on Georgia avenue, Hapeville, a week ago, but has not been seen since. He is described as being above medium height, weighing approximately 180 pounds. Older Hoboes Asked To Protect 'Amateurs'

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(AP)—So many boys are stealing rides on trains that some railroad men have appealed to older hoboes to look out for the youngsters in an effort to reduce deaths and injuries. Interstate commerce commission officials said today in making public figures showing an increase in the number of deaths and injuries to trespassers and hoboes during the first nine months of 1932 that they had been informed by railroad men that such requests had been made. The accident reports showed that 3,535 persons were killed in accidents of all kinds on railroads during the period, and 21,856 injured.

Gerguson Is Named In U. S. Indictments

The first indictment charged Gerguson with entering the country illegally after being arrested and deported, and with eluding examination by immigration officials.

In the second, he is accused of 10 counts of "false swearing" before the inquiry board at Ellis Island late in December.

The "false swearing" charge was said to be based on his testimony that he had entered the United States last month by way of Canada.

MOMENTOUS MEETING DELAYED AT BERLIN

BERLIN, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Adolf Hitler, leader of the national socialist party, was expected here today for a conference with government chiefs, but he sent word from Weimar that he would not arrive until tomorrow.

The action was taken by two local creditors but has not been acted upon yet by Judge Underwood.

South Georgia Youth Arrested for Murder

THOMASVILLE, Ga., Jan. 16.—(AP)—Emmett Culpepper, 20-year-old member of a well known south Georgia family, was ordered held on a murder charge Monday by a grand jury investigating the death of Johnny Roland, 28, likewise prominently connected.

Testimony presented the jurors purported to show Roland's skull was fractured by a blow with a heavy stick at a gasoline filling station Friday night. He remained unconscious until his death Sunday.

Witnesses said the wounded youth was kept at the filling station several hours before doctors were called. When they finally reached him, he was beyond help.

Culpepper remains in the county jail pending the April term of superior court. Roland was buried today near Coolidge.

GIRLS IN DANGER AS PLANE FALLS IN AFRICAN WILDS

NAIROBI, Kenya, Africa, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Joan Page and Aubrey Salebarker, two English girls flying from Capetown to London, have been forced down in a desolate spot where wild animals about 40 miles from here, and assistance is on the way by motor truck and airplane.

They were lost over Tanganyika on Saturday night, and during the night they were rescued by a plane which discovered them. The pilot could not land but he saw their ship bottom up and badly damaged, one girl waving frantically beside the wreckage. A band of natives went about two miles off proceeding toward the wreck.

The pilot came back here immediately, picked up some food and first aid material and left. In a few minutes several automobiles were on the way to the spot he had described.

As a Money Producing Machine... WHAT ARE YOU WORTH TO YOUR FAMILY?

DISREGARDING affection, parental guidance and all sentimental considerations, what does a man represent to his family from a purely material viewpoint?

Let us take a practical example:

Suppose a man is earning $5,000.00 a year. To his family he represents an estate of $100,000.00, invested and producing regularly at 5% per year. That they may not suffer a direct loss in income when he dies, he should leave them an estate of equal amount, or slightly less since his expenses can be deducted.

Relatively few men can build such an estate out of earnings and investments. Their best opportunity to provide for their family is through Life Insurance.

We have no Life Insurance to sell, but we are vitally concerned with people. From years of experience we know that the proper way to plan for your family is to add to your assets a sufficient amount of Life Insurance to create an estate, the income from which will replace your earning power as nearly as possible.

Then, with the estate created, arrange with our Trust Department to administer it intelligently and faithfully. Even as your family cannot produce the estate, so will they be limited in their ability to invest and conserve it.

RAILROAD RECEIVERSHIPS and the PUBLIC

There are 6,665 miles of railroad in the State of Georgia, of which 2,998, or 45 per cent, are in receivership, representing 9 different companies. Alabama has 5,256 miles of line, of which 1,411, or 27 per cent, are represented by 5 companies in receivership.

These figures, while they do not make pleasant reading, nevertheless show facts which should challenge the attention and the interest of the whole public. They are important to the holders of railway securities. They are significant to policy holders of life insurance companies. They mean something to the treasuries of states, counties, school districts and municipalities. They affect those who sell materials and supplies to the railroads.

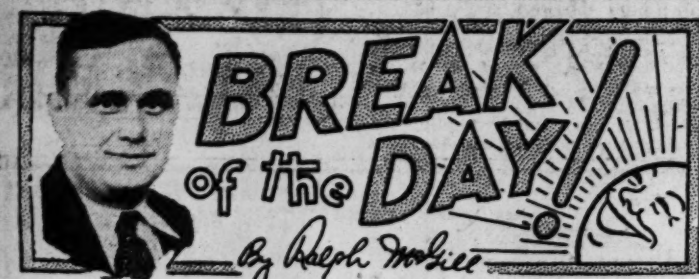

Sound public policy requires co-operation and support for the railroads, for those that are going concerns, that their solvency may continue, and for those in receivership, that their earning power may be restored. This much needed support can be given in various ways, patronage of the rails by those who ship and travel, equitable legislation for all forms of transportation, impartial enforcement of the laws governing the various transportation agencies, a lightening of the tax burden through reduction of governmental costs. With such co-operation the railroads can prosper, and the country will be helped by their prosperity.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

Babe Ruth Becomes 1933 Season's First Important Holdout

Let's Not Let All This Energy Go to Grass

It might be well for Your Uncle Wilbert Robinson and Charley Moore, who will ride herd over the Atlanta baseball Crackers this spring and summer, to investigate a device in Cleveland which is being tried out on the infield of the diamond in the municipal stadium.

The device has been built with the idea of making the grass grow long and lush, making a bosky dell out of the place. It seems that the device is an electrical network which is placed beneath the infield at a depth of about six inches.

The current is turned on and the stimulation supplied the grass causes it to shake off the handicap of malnutrition, anemia and other kindred ills. The chlorophyll becomes greener and more active. The points of grass sharpen themselves and things look fine generally.

I abhor the idea of technocracy and its desire to harness the energy of the world and make it purr so that we may all work only a few hours a day and thus enjoy prosperity and luxury. There may be times when I would not want to work even two or three hours and there would be times when I would like to work 15 or 16 and drink lots of black coffee and take aspirin and enjoy things like that.

But this device at Cleveland plays right into the hands of the baseball people. It can be used to abolish all sluggish infields. The Crackers could purchase the device, install the network of wires about two inches below the soil instead of six, increase the supply of electricity and there you have it.

The turn of a switch and the infielders begin prancing and dancing about no matter what their age. It might be possible to bring in a lot of baseball relics and rejuvenate them with the new device. The current would run right into the spikes and set the boys prancing.

There is no use letting the current sizzle up the blades of grass when it can sizzle up the legs of the ball players and make them go get those baseballs.

There is no use letting this new creation of the scientific mind go to grass. If Charley Moore doesn't get it, I predict there will be many an afternoon this summer when he will wish he had a switch to turn on and make the feet of his athletes very, very hot.

THEY HAVE A TRAINER.

There seems to be no reason to cast about for a trainer for the Crackers when there is William Daly in our midst. There seems to be no reason to go out of town for a man when William Daly is right here with us.

The old doctor did a magnificent job with the Crackers last season. He kept them in shape. And he kept them in a good humor. He smoothed over difficulties in the clubhouse. Old Doctor Daly is a very valuable man to have with the ball club if there is, as they say, a definite plan on to sneak up on the pennant.

The old doctor is a great hand at handling the boys who come along classed as tough hombres, hard to handle. He generally reduces them to nice boys who go along without any trouble. Your faithful reporter has carefully refrained from advising the Crackers officials as to how to build their ball club. But he will stick in his ear and advise about the trainer. There is one firm vote for Old Doctor Daly.

THAT PIQUED LITTLE TEN.

As further evidence that the Southern conference, composed of ten schools in the Carolinas, Virginia and Maryland, was influenced by pique in their request that an investigation be made of athletics, is their definite request that athletics in the newly formed Southeastern conference be investigated.

If they felt that their own athletics needed investigating it was quite proper and correct to ask for an investigation. But when they stated they also wanted an investigation of the group which left them to formulate better plans for the control of athletics, plans which were blocked a year ago by the group in the Carolinas, Virginia and Maryland, they acted in poor taste.

There seems to be no reason why money should be spent to investigate college athletics when the net result will be a lot of inaccurate statistics. The Carnegie foundation gave one institution a clean bill in its investigation a few years ago and a few weeks later the institution was expelled by its own conference. It may be all right to spend money to view a yawn but there are better causes.

NO STATE BOARD NEEDED.

Mr. John A. White's protest that a state athletic board, which would put control of all boxing and wrestling in the hands of the American Legion, is unjust and unnecessary seems to be correct.

The boxing fan and the wrestling fan already pay enough taxes. The trend is away from the creation of any more commissions, bureaus or committees which would create new officers and mean more taxes.

It is a bit unusual for the Legion to seek to create a monopoly. It is against all the traditions of the Legion to seek to exclude any person or persons from the privilege of promoting sport simply because they do not belong to the Legion. The Legion may enter the field at any time without the aid of a government monopoly.

Additional taxes, additional officials and additional laws are unnecessary. It is almost a foregone conclusion that should such a bill become a law it would break up the remnants of boxing and wrestling promotion as there is no way to pass a law making people attend.

Mr. White, who is chairman of the Atlanta commission which serves without salary, seems to be entirely correct. There is no need for such a law.

IN THE MAIL.

Dear Mr. McGill: Now that it has been discovered that football "kept" all other college sports and allowed them to spend with a lavish hand; and that football built stadia and splendid gymnasiums; and that many institutions football built dormitories and other buildings and often lent money to pay the salaries of teachers, what will they do about it?—A. L. J.

Why, my dear sir, they will investigate it and use words like subsidize, recruit, scholarship, ideals, menace and so forth.

And everyone will yawn because college athletics are cleaner and under better control than ever.

NOT ONE COMPLETE.

BASEBALL CARD.

Michigan will have 18 baseball games on its schedule next season. Twelve are with members of the Big Ten. The opener is with Iowa, probably on April 19.

PETRELS OPEN SPRING DRILLS ON WEDNESDAY

Incoming Sophomore Gridders Report First; Old Men Start Monday.

By Jack Troy.

There has been a lot of whistling in the dark concerning the opening of spring football practice at Oglethorpe park without further notice, it is definitely reported this morning that Coach Harry Robertson will meet members of the promising freshman team of last year in the first session Wednesday afternoon at Hernance field.

The first four days of practice will be devoted entirely to instructing the sophomores in the intricate system. Juniors and seniors will not report until next Monday.

Coach Robertson, who has just returned from a second trip to two weeks into New York state, the second occasioned by the death of his mother-in-law, warmed up a bit on the subject of the sophomore material on hand.

He seemed to feel that several of the yearlings of last year will provide him some excellent material in the future.

Among those mentioned were Friedman and Young Pickard, ends; Darricott, Hill and Strike, tackles; Adams and McNeely, guards; Tappin and Wade, backs.

Tappin is regarded as an excellent kicker and passer, and "Wade is a fine defensive back."

NEW MEMBERS.

Altogether, Coach Robertson will meet approximately 20 candidates Wednesday. Addition of the other squad members will boost the number to around 50 players.

Coach Robertson is thinking more at this time of the players he has in view to mould a team for 1933 than the ones who were lost following the Mercer game last Thanksgiving.

On paper, the prospect of replacing all the graduate players seems very disheartening indeed. But Coach Harry Robertson always finds a way. He has been in the past, but no one can point out a single instance in which he was found to be coming a mumpsy song.

Gone from the line are ex-captain John Patrick and Marion Whaley, guards; Dan Kenzie and Wayne Pickard, tackles; and Andy Morrow, a center or end. From the backfield Coach Robby, Coach John Putnam, Ray Walker, George Gaillard, Nammie Raines and Sam Baker.

The brighter side is found in such returning players as Rudy Shouse, who played variety football a large part of last season; Reed Craven, a varsity end; Thurman, a fine end, and others in the line.

VERSATILE BACKS.

One fine asset and no little versatility in the group of returning backfield men. Harry Wrens, Jack Harrison, Ralph Cobb, Jimmy George, Jim Landon and Metrick constitute a promising outlay of prospects.

Coach Robertson will take into himself his one-man staff and start work with the freshmen Wednesday in a very heavy manner. Football, whether it be spring practice or regular season, always brings added zest to Robby.

The schedule arranged for 1932 will send the Petrels into action against Newberry, which will be a reasonable test of their strength, on the night of November 21, at 7 o'clock.

The second and third games bring the real grief. Alabama is to be played in Tuscaloosa on September 30, and Mississippi (Delta) on October 7 in New Orleans.

The arduous interseasonal schedule of other years has been curtailed for 1933. There will be one other interseasonal game arranged for November 11 or 18, probably the 11th. That will provide a fine nine-game slate.

Speaking of the Alabama game, Robby said yesterday: "We will practically render Coach Frank Thomas' Red Regiment inaudible."

September 21—Newberry, Ponce de Leon (night).
September 30—Alabama, Tuscaloosa.
October 7—Mississippi, New Orleans.
October 14—Chattanooga, Chattanooga.
October 16—Stetson, Ponce de Leon (night).
October 21—Arkansas, Hermance field.
October 28—Georgia, place pending.
November 11—Open.
November 18—Open.
November 26—Mercer, Hermance field.

Monte Parke Rides 3 Straight Winners

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Young Monte Parke, riding at Jefferson Park, continued his winning ways today as he won three consecutive races to prevent a sweep of the program by long-shots.

Starting with the second race, the little apprentice, who had ridden 41 winners previous to today, scored in successive fights. Harlow, odd-on choice; Good Sport, even-money favorite; and Thistle Fern, well played at 2 to 1.

With the featured fifth event, however, the long-shots began to connect. C. E. Davidson's Hot Shot accounted for the 6 to 1 long shot, and won $17.40 to $2. Hick, owned by Jones and Keatin, galloped home in the sixth and paid off his scattered backers $80 for each $2 invested in a straight ticket.

The sixth went to S. Mason's Make Believe, which returned 6 for 1, while the eighth event was won by Drastic Water, a good thing at $28.90 for $2.

JACKETS MEET TIGERS TONIGHT; BULLDOGS REST

Tech Plays Mercer Here Saturday Instead of Florida.

By Jimmy Jones.

Having taken off some of the edge of tension against each other at Athens Saturday, basketball teams of Tech and Georgia are facing forth into other fields this week.

The Yellow Jackets of Roy Mundorff, still suffering from lack of playing experience, leave this morning for the Tennessee mountains, where tonight they will take on the Sewanee Tigers. Wednesday night will find the golden-shirted Engineers in Nashville for a game with Josh Cody's Vanderbilt team. They return home following this game to engage Mercer in a home contest at the auditorium Saturday night.

FLORIDA GAME OFF.

The game with the Bears supplants that with Florida, which was cancelled before the season started.

Dick Orr, towering sophomore center of the Jackets, who has been confined to the training room with a bum ankle, rejoined his squad for practice yesterday and got about nimbly enough in the practice, Tech missed the lanky Orr in the game with Georgia, as he has been fairly successful in controlling the tip, even against Satchel and Herlihy, of the Celtics.

Billy Glenn, saffron-haired Atlanta youth, switched from forward to center Saturday night and did fairly well. Coach Mundorff plans to carry virtually the same squad to Tennessee that went to Athens. A hard practice yesterday afternoon at the Athletic Club was given the team by way of tuning it up for the engagements in the Volunteer state.

Reynolds' University of Georgia, quietly for the insurance far as games are concerned for the early part of the week and possibly it is a good thing, since Virlyn Moore Jr., the team's star, has a bum ankle which he turned while pivoting about the court in scoring 18 points against Tech in his team's 30-25 victory.

The Bulldogs, also crippled through the loss of Buck Chapman, big center, for the remainder of the season, invade Florida Friday and Saturday night to play a two-game series. Enright said he would alternate Webb and O'Kelly at center. Chapman's old post, Leroy Young and Moore have been the team's punch to date. Little Joe Chandler, another Atlanta youth, has been a hard-fighting floor player.

Both Tech and Georgia have early season weaknesses to overcome. The Bulldogs were just getting some experience behind them when Chapman was lost, temporarily upsetting the machine of the team and forcing Enright to develop a new center.

Tech, due to the late reporting of four players who went to California with the football team, left consoling. The Bulldogs are shooting accuracy from the floor. Mundorff believes a few more games will correct this deficiency. The Jackets did not have the foul shots against Georgia, most of their points coming from the free-throw mark.

Wood's "loot" at Aqua Caliente totaled $750 to give him the lead with a combined purse of $3,906.75 in the campaign which started with the St. Louis open last October. Shute, who captured the Miami-Biltmore and placed second in the national city and Miami opens has won a total of $3,400 for an exceptional average of $1,333.33 for each of the three tournaments he entered during the campaign.

Paul Runyan, of White Plains, N. Y., first prize winner of the Aqua Caliente, ranked third with a total of $2,845.00.

Gene Sarazen, halted by illness in the Los Angeles event, was far down the list of big money winners and seemed certain to lose out as the winter tournament champion for the first time in three years. Gene won $900 in the Miami-Biltmore and $250 in the Miami open before going to California but he was forced out with an attack of flu.

Although many tournaments remain on the winter schedule, Gene will have to make almost a clean sweep to come out in front again. Olin Dura, regarded as Sarazen's most serious rival before the winter campaign opened, also was far down the list with only $627.15 in prize money.

John Revolta, the 21-year-old Melrose (Mich.) star, competed in only two big money tournaments but came out with $1,900 to land in fourth place, followed by Horton Smith, of Oak Park, Ill., who has been enriched by $1,831.25 since he started the winter swing back in St. Louis. Revolta finished second to Shute in the Miami-Biltmore to win $1,250 and captured $650 first-prize money in the Miami open.

Other leading money winners so far are: Willie Hunter, Los Angeles, $1,570; Leo Diegel, Aqua Caliente, Mex., $1,250.75; Walter Hagen, Detroit, $1,252.50; Ed Dudley, Wilmington, Del., $1,050; Harry Cooper, Chicago, $1,050; Al Espinosa, Akron, Ohio, $1,054.50; and Eddie Loos, Chicago, $976.

He's First Holdout

Baseball's inimitable man of swat yesterday hit the first holdout home run of the 1933 season when he received his contract and immediately returned it unsigned to Colonel Jacob Ruppert, generalissimo of the New York Yankees. Ruth turned the contract "unsatisfactory."

Travis, Young Georgian, Cost Senators But $200

Engel Bought Star With Idea of Using Him As Ticket Taker.

By Jimmy Jones.

Cecil Travis, the seneby young Georgian whom Clark Griffith is calling a $50,000 ball player, cost Mr. Griffith and the Washington club just about $49,700. The amount, according to records recently disclosed, Joe Engel delivered the lad on the hoof at the Chattanooga ball park for an expenditure of $200, plus the fare to Chattanooga.

It was in the summer of 1931 that Joe Engel first heard about a kid named Travis who had been learning his baseball lessons under the pungent instruction of Kid Elberfeld, of the baseball school of Elberfeld & Walton in Atlanta. Tim Kelleher, the old scout, who was interested in the school, drew Cousin Joe by the coat lapel one day over at Chattanooga and whispered a few highly complimentary adjectives and adverbs into his ear about Travis.

The story goes that Engel wasn't terribly impressed with the tidings. At that time Chattanooga had a third baseman named Treadway, who could larry the ball with range and consistency, and Engel was interested in buying him. He had a few experienced men as fast as possible.

Meanwhile, other Southern league clubs had been approached on Travis. Finally Joe Engel decided to take a chance on him. He understood it would take only $200 to land the rookie. He figured it wasn't such a risk buying him sight unseen, for that, so he wrote out a check and sent Travis word to come on over.

"He's worth that much just to look at," Engel said. "I don't think so," Travis went over and hung around Engel stadium awhile, although there is no record of his having taken up any tickets.

Engel decided a little semi-pro experience wouldn't do the kid any harm. He heard that the team at Newport, Tenn., wanted ball players so Joe and Bert Niehoff bundled him off up there. The Southern league hitters were in fine swing, and Travis kept on playing around Newport.

It wasn't long, however, before Engel and Niehoff began hearing things about the kid. Traveling salesmen who had been to Chattanooga called him in and he wound up playing third base. During the short time he was with the Lookouts he pounded the ball away from the bat, hitting several home runs and exhibiting a rifle-shot throwing arm.

Travis was called to spring training camp at Selma, Ala., in the spring of 1932, billed as the only candidate for third base. Despite this responsibility, the youth made good from the start. He opened the season at third and was on top of his game all season. The rookie from Georgia was one of the league's leading hitters from the gun, batting around .360 all season and fielding capably enough. He was one of the steadiest players on a team of experienced men.

Washington has him up for a trial next spring. Bert Niehoff hopes they will send him back another season in the minors. A little more seasoning, Bert thinks, will make him a star. If Washington should retain him, he would be bound to warm the bench a lot with the veteran Ossie Bluege holding forth at third. If he comes back to Chattanooga, he will be in the lineup.

"There is nothing that discourages a young player so much as keeping him on the bench," Niehoff says.

G. M. A. Five Meets Petrel Shop Team

Three games today will start the prep basketball activities in its third season at the Petrel Shop, composed of Oglethorpe stars, at 3:30 o'clock at College Park in the feature game for local courts. Marietta plays North Fulton High, at Buckhead, in the other city game.

Boys' High journey to Canton for a game tonight with Canton High. Today's games are the first of a series of 12 to be played during the coming week.

BABE DIDRIKSON PLANS SCHOOLS

By Babe Didrikson.

(Copyright, 1933, by the North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

A lot of people feel sorry for me. They think I have lost out by becoming a professional. Friends among the sports writers tell me that I made a mistake.

They say I will regret the change in a few months. But I don't think so. My manager, who is handling all my business arrangements, is sincerely interested in seeing that I do nothing that will injure my future.

Many athletes who turn professional are equal to men in a few months. After the first news is published the public loses interest in them. A professional tennis player, golfer or swimmer has only a limited career. After that he is satisfied, he is forgotten.

But I hope to go on for years. I have demonstrated in my career that I am not a professional in many sports on equal terms with men.

I do not mean that women generally are equal to men in athletics. They are not, because they do not have the same strength or endurance. But the average man is not an athlete, and a woman who trains consistently can defeat many of them at most games.

DISCREDITED.

One writer in an effort to discredit me published a comparison of my track and field records with prep school records in the same events. In these records, I was outdistanced.

For example, my best mark in the 100-yard dash is 14.4 seconds, as compared to 12.5 seconds for prep school boys. I have to say that the boy who jumped 6 feet probably cannot play nine holes of golf in 20, howl 270, run 8 or 10 at billiards, play basketball on a championship team, design a dress, cook a ham omelet and play the harmonica.

I am ready to challenge any man in the world to an all-around competition of all sports events, and I will win more events than I lose. I issued such a challenge to Babe Ruth, but he has not yet accepted.

I know I can outrun Ruth, outjump him and defeat him at swimming and diving. He can probably beat me at baseball and golf, but there are no other events in a general list of games in which I would admit he can defeat me. I can't throw a baseball as far as Ruth or knock a ball as long a distance, but I can beat him at bowling, billiards, pool, tennis, skating, dancing, ice hockey and paracheuting.

Women are handicapped because they have few opportunities and practically no athletic clubs. There is practically no place in athletics for women.

'SUN' JENNINGS AND DAVIS COURT TO MEET TONIGHT

Weber's Card at Auditorium Opens New Season Here.

Ushering in Atlanta's wrestling season for 1933 at the auditorium tonight Dick Daviscourt meets Blue Sun Jennings, Cherokee Indian heavyweight, in the two-hour feature match of Henry Weber's card.

Paul Harper, a Texas, takes on Jack Zarnos, Ohio Indian, in the one-hour semi-windup. Zarnos has been here since Saturday training for his match. A 15-minute bout between local middleweights will start the show at 8:15 o'clock.

Daviscourt comes to town today direct from his orange grove in California, where he spent Christmas with his family.

The Indian possesses, in the nerve lock, one of the deadliest holds in the game, and—in addition—he is shifty, resourceful and a good wrestler. Many fans believe that his youth and speed will enable him to pin the veteran Californian.

Whoever wins, the match is certain to be spectacular owing to Daviscourt's style of milling. While he knows all the holds of the game, and is especially proficient with the headlock, Dick always seeks to batter his foe into a dazed state with vicious forearm blows. Once that end is achieved, the crotch hold and body slam is used.

In order to avoid last-minute congestion at the auditorium box office, fans are requested to secure tickets in advance at the Miner & Carter Drug Company or the Piedmont Hatters. A brisk sale has been reported, but a matchmaker, Weber, announces that there are plenty of seats in choice locations yet available.

DRIVING IRON HARD TO PLAY

By Brian Bell.

Associated Press Staff Writer.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Gene Sarazen at times can make any golfer look like a beginner. He will tell you, if you can catch him in a hospital where he cannot get away, that some shots are much harder than others.

"What is the hardest shot in golf?" he was asked.

"The No. 1, or driving iron, for the crack player. The average player should not try to carry this club. For even ranking players, the driving iron is frequently a gamble, and many of us have found after missing a shot with it we would have been far better off if we had taken a spoon. I seldom use it. It is apt to take me out of my groove."

Sarazen, about to be dismissed from the hospital after a brief stay for influenza, was asked then to suggest the hardest shot for the player struggling desperately to "break a hummer." He said that the driving iron would not be bothered with No. 1 iron so that was out.

PITCH IS HARDEST.

"The hardest shot for the ordinary player," said Gene, "I think is the No. 6 (mashie niblick), No. 7 (spade), and sometimes the No. 8 (mashie iron)."

"Many men golfers who failed to improve their ability to gain a complete mastery of the 145-yard pitches, and as a result waste a lot of strokes, are like most women golfers—they're too lazy to practice them. They spend too much time on the shots since they get more fun out of giving the ball a ride than placing it where they want the most."

OVERPLAY CLUBS.

"Many golfers continually try to overplay some of their clubs. Average golfers should learn that every iron club is before a certain distance and when in doubt, should use the stronger club. Too, I think they will profit if they will make up their minds that they will only on weekends, they will not be able to get anything like the distance with the stronger clubs the pros who play almost every day and practices between times."

"I think most players should be satisfied to get between 135 and 140 yards with a No. 4 iron, 125 to 130 yards with a No. 5 and 100 and under with a No. 6. The wedge (niblick) should not be used for pitches of more than 50 yards from the green.

"Many golfers will play better and have more fun if they do not use a driver on the tee until they are reasonably proficient. The brassie will be better for the high handicap man."

"I do not believe, either, in a lot of practice swings and waggles. I have seen players waggle the clubs a dozen times before they swing the ball. They are all worn out and have no strength left for the swing."

Alabama To Keep All Sports Programs

UNIVERSITY, Ala., Jan. 16.—(AP)—Minor sports will continue through the spring as in the past at the University of Alabama, Henry Crisp, director of athletics, said today, except that some schedules may be shortened.

This means that Alabama will compete in intercollegiate golf, tennis, track and boxing, as well as baseball.

The spring program, paradoxically, will begin on January 25, with Coach Frank Thomas assembling his football men for the six weeks of training, and Harold Drew will start his track candidates through the first limbering up.

BAMBINO SENDS BACK CONTRACT, DOES NOT SIGN

Contained Salary Reduction of $20,000, Diamond Circles Believe.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—(UP)—Babe Ruth, the nation's highest paid baseball player, tonight became the 1933 season's first important holdout when he returned the contract from the New York Yankees and mailed it back immediately.

The contract contained a reduction, but Ruth declined to reveal the salary the Yanks had offered him for the coming season.

"I'll let the club announce the details of the contract," Ruth said. "I don't feel in a position right now to say anything about it. It was unsatisfactory to me, so I'm sending it back."

Ed Barrow, business manager of the Yankees, likewise declined to reveal the amount of the salary stipulated in the contract. He said he expected an announcement would be made tomorrow by Colonel Jacob Ruppert, owner of the Yanks.

"I'm surprised that Babe received the contract so quickly," Barrow said. "I didn't think he would get it until tomorrow."

When Colonel Ruppert was reached on the phone, he laughingly refused to divulge the details of the contract, but finally admitted, "You can say it contained a reduction."

"Will it be safe to say it was a considerable reduction?" he was asked. "You'll have to take your chance on that," he replied. "There may be an announcement tomorrow."

Stephens and Beckett are two of the city's most popular professionals.

Missouri Sportsman Plans New Lion Hunt

Wright said he would take ample precautions to avoid intrusion and repetition of the previous anti-climax, when the two lionesses had been freed on the island were shot by interlopers while Wright and his party were eating chicken dinner.

FIREMEN BATTLE AS BLAZE CLAIMS WILD WEST SHOW

BRISTOL, Pa., Jan. 16.—(UP)—The last theatrical performance of the Bristol company's once famous wild west circus was held in smoke today when two rival fire companies battled each other at the scene.

The ancient wagons and tinselled trappings which added to the glory of Colonel William E. Cody in his circus days were stored in a barn on the farm of Thomas Smith, former circus manager. The barn caught fire.

The Bristol consolidated fire company, breathless after a long run, reached the scene first, and leaped into action; a moment later their rivals, the Headley fire company, arrived, coats flying in the wind and all hands ready for action.

There was a period of confusion in which the burning barn became a matter of secondary importance. The Bristol company charged the Headley barn and squirted water on them.

In retaliation the Bristol company shifted two high pressure lines and knocked most of the rival company men off their feet.

Meanwhile, a third company from Falsington, remained neutral and fought the flames which destroyed two barns and the circus properties.

Injured Indian's Rescue of Captors In Blizzard Bared by Authorities

THE PAS, Man., Jan. 16.—(UP)—How an Indian prisoner with bones broken in an airplane crash crawled through a sub-arctic blizzard to bring help for his captors was told today in this Canadian outpost as an aftermath to the death of Pilot William A. Spence, star northland flyer.

The Indian, Buster Whiteway, was being returned to civilization by an officer of the Canadian Mounted Police to face the white man's laws.

The plane, which bore the captive, Corporal R. Graves of the police, an Indian interpreter and Pilot Spence, turned over in a forced landing Friday on the treacherous ice of Moose lake.

The engine was ripped from its base and crushed the pilot to death. The other passengers were seriously injured. The Indian prisoner, his

Wesley Young People Protest Dismissal of Church Secretary

A called business meeting of the board of stewards of Wesley Memorial church ended abruptly in disorder late Monday night, brought about by the dismissal of the church secretary, said, as a "personal attack" upon the church secretary, the board of stewards of the church, the North Georgia conference of the church of Miss Mamie E. Baker, for the last 12 years church secretary, a number of charges were made in form by members of a group of young persons who burst into the church during the meeting, and "false" by Dr. Williams. Among them was criticism of the location of the Wesley Memorial mission for the unemployed in the church building.

"All this," Dr. Williams said, subsequent to the announcement made public to the Constitution by representatives of the young people, "is nothing but an effort to embarrass me, and is a misrepresentation of the dismissal of Miss Baker, who was ordered discharged by the North Georgia conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South."

ROOSEVELT SEEKS TO CLEAR COURSE FOR FARM RELIEF

agriculture committee, "Cotton Ed" Smith, of South Carolina, who has guardedly expressed his doubts of the measure's wisdom. Until Smith's return tomorrow the committee agreed to defer its consideration of the bill.

The Roosevelt imprimatur was also seen in the announcement by Chairman Stagg, of the house banking committee, that congressional action would be expedited on a temporary measure to relieve the farm mortgage loan situation.

Through Henry Morgenthau Jr., mentioned as a possibility for the agriculture portfolio in his cabinet, Mr. Roosevelt has notified congressional leaders that he considers most imperative the need for legislation to keep farmers from losing their homes and thus becoming embittered or broken.

In fact, such a measure is now being prepared by farm leaders and associated with the agriculture committee, Mr. Morgenthau, and is expected to be introduced in both senate and house early this week. Its details were not disclosed until definitely decided upon.

Mr. Roosevelt's farm relief plans are being formed mainly with a view to the special session of the congress which democratic leaders said today is almost certain to be called about the middle of April.

Representative Stagg expressed a conviction that President Hoover would "do anything but a temporary relief measure. A presidential veto for the 'domestic alignment' plan should be passed the present congress, which is forecast, even by its staunchest friends.

One of those who has been influential in framing the bill and getting it through the house asserted flatly today that no matter how much it might be altered in the senate, the bill would not be changed. President Hoover will refuse to sign an allotment plan measure. Little likelihood is seen that the necessary two-thirds could be marshalled to pass it over a veto.

In fact, the bill has encountered a lukewarm reception in democratic as well as republican circles since it reached the senate last week after passing the house by a vote of 203 to 151.

Chairman McNary, republican, Oregon, in opening the agriculture committee's consideration of it today, told his colleagues he felt that in its present form it is too complex and impracticable. He said he had serious doubts whether such legislation is within the constitutional power of congress.

There was much nodding of heads in agreement, but when McNary expressed the view that hearings in addition to those already in progress in the house are not necessary there was considerable dissent.

Many felt that representatives of the millers, packers and other "processors" who would be taxed under the bill to pay bounties to the producers of wheat, cotton, tobacco, rice, peanuts, butterfat and hogs, should be

The charges, as made public by a representative of the young people, were that the church secretary had introduced into the stewards' meeting, which was denied by Dr. Williams, who said that at the end of the stewards' meeting approximately 25 young persons, who appeared without a leader or spokesman, had suddenly made their appearance and had demanded to make charges involving the dismissal of Miss Baker. H. L. Simmons, chairman of the board of stewards, Dr. Williams said, protested that the meeting already had adjourned, but that he (Williams) insisted the people be given a hearing.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Summation of the federal government's suit to dissolve the Sugar Institute, Inc., whose members produce and sell $500,000,000 worth of cane sugar a year, began in federal court today.

During the trial, which began a year ago next month and ended in the court's decision to dissolve the institute, the government sought to prove that in violation of the anti-trust law the institute had conspired to fix prices, which virtually stifled competition.

Yankees Return Saltzgraver to Bears

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Otto (Jack) Saltzgraver, second baseman who finished the 1932 season at the Newark International after a sensational start as a Yankee freshman, was to be sent to the Bears today to wait at least another season before he gets his next chance with the World Champions.

The Yankees had announced Saltzgraver's return to Newark for another season on option. He will go south with the No. 1 unit of the Yankees for next year.

At the same time the New York club further cut down its infield "ivory," with a consequent saving in training camp expenses by releasing Roy Schalk, another second baseman, to Newark. Schalk was obtained from Oklahoma City.

Saltzgraver started the 1932 season as the Yankees' regular second baseman, making a good impression at the outset. His hitting slumped, however, and he gave way to Tony Lazzeri's comeback. The former St. Paul star then played 106 games with Newark, batting .310 and was recalled by the headquarters club.

The Yankees had announced Saltzgraver's return to Newark for another season on option. He will go south with the No. 1 unit of the Yankees for next year.

At the same time the New York club further cut down its infield "ivory," with a consequent saving in training camp expenses by releasing Roy Schalk, another second baseman, to Newark. Schalk was obtained from Oklahoma City.

Saltzgraver started the 1932 season as the Yankees' regular second baseman, making a good impression at the outset. His hitting slumped, however, and he gave way to Tony Lazzeri's comeback. THE SPORTLIGHT

CHAMPIONS AND THEIR CHANCES FOR 1933.

No. 5—Helen Wills Moody.

A short while ago Mrs. Helen Wills Moody arrived in New York after a nine-months absence abroad.

Only a day or two after her arrival she had Manual Alonzo, former Davis cup star, working to the limit to beat her in two sets.

After losing to Elmer Griffin, she proceeded to beat him in two sets.

And later in the week she won and lost a set against young Sidney Wood, one of the country's leading stars.

In these exhibitions Mrs. Moody put on a display of tennis which dazzled the experts. She seemed faster afoot and hitting harder than ever before. Her combination of speed, power and control lifted her far above any female competition now around.

But the main point of these recent matches was that she finished each afternoon's play as fresh as she was at the start. She wasn't taking an extra breath.

One of the marvels of Mrs. Helen Wills Moody is the close attention she has given to her physical condition year after year. She is today not only exceptionally strong but amazingly tireless. She doesn't drink and she doesn't smoke. She eats plain, simple food and she makes a point of getting exercise at every chance.

Her Methods.

Here are a few characteristics of the women's tennis champion which few know about.

When a match is over, Mrs. Moody leaves her tennis on the playing court. She doesn't take it home with her. She does not brooding or fretting about some mistake she may have made.

With the game over, she has other interests in life to think about. And then, 30 minutes before her next match starts, her concentration on tennis becomes complete. She allows no other subject to distract her attention from the main issue just ahead.

Some time back Mrs. Moody felt that she was not using enough speed on the courts. One or two stories were written that her footwork seemed to be slowing down and that she was not covering as much court as formerly.

The result was she went in for training just as a sprinter does. She had someone stand by the starting line and fire a gun as she raced 30 or 40 yards. This was done over and over, day after day, until her foot speed had been greatly increased.

In working over a service, a forehand or a backhand, Mrs. Moody might put in a full hour on one stroke, playing it over and over, until she was satisfied with the results.

This calls for patience and unusual determination. It also shows the strength of her determination. And this is no light matter, once her mind is made up.

Ten Years Ago.

It was just ten years ago when young 17-year-old Helen Wills won her first national title at Forest Hills.

She was still in the pictorial period of childhood, but when the pictorial began to get in her way she had her hair cut. Shortly after this she adopted the blonde shade, which she later made famous.

It was only a year or two later that the California star picked up the sobriquet of "Little Feller Face." No matter how long she might be going in her favor or against her, there was not the faintest shadow of emotion in her set countenance, which retained its complete immobility under any type of pressure.

Mrs. Moody has lost few matches since her arrival at the top. Her one setback of late came from Suzanne Lenglen, the bounding French marvel, whose greater speed and greater experience ruled the day in two hard tests in southern France.

But the Helen Wills who fell before the Lenglen of 1925, or thereabouts, was not the Helen Wills Moody of today. For she is now faster on her feet than she was then, a harder, surer hitter, and a far more experienced competitor.

It would be only a shot into the fog to say whether the Helen Wills Moody of today could, or could not, beat the Suzanne Lenglen of 1925 or 1926. Anyone who could answer this could tell how Dempsey and Sullivan would have made out.

Mrs. Moody plays a large part of her tennis today against male opponents who can force her game to the limit.

"I expect to play in championships for several years," she says. "Why not? I know of no greater fun." At the age of 27 she should have five or six years left around the heights. Possibly longer.

Any athlete who pays as much attention as she does to the physical and mental necessities of competitive play is bound to have a long career. Mrs. Moody's record in the championship playing time through more than a few seasons.

Tilden Says Pros Can Beat Amateurs

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 16.—(AP)—Bill Tilden figures the first 10 professionals of the tennis world should be able to take the first 10 amateurs for a fall any day in the week.

Here on another of his barnstorming tours, Tilden discussed the respective abilities of amateurs and professionals at some length over his after-dinner coffee last night. He said he doubted if any such clash between amateurs and professionals ever would be played.

The program will be the high point of the series, and on February 28 the recitals will be concluded with modern composers as the subject.

Tickets for the series are $2.50, or 50 cents for an individual ticket. They may be secured through Mrs. Joseph Neepke, 1111 17th street, N. W., or Mrs. Neepke 1915; from Miss Margaret Lee her arts and interests committee, or at the door before each recital. All music lovers, whether advanced students or merely beginners, are urged to attend, as the lecture-recitals have an appeal for everyone.

FRIENDLY COUNSEL

BY CAROLINE CHATFIELD

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

Dear Miss Chatfield: I have been married for six years and I don't exaggerate when I say I have had no pleasure in that time. My husband is a drunkard, a gambler and a philanderer. He doesn't love his home, nor his wife and children. He is never at home in the evening and is unfaithful in every respect. Now I ask you should a woman put up with this or should she walk out. S. S. S.

ANSWER: She should do the thing that seems best for herself and her children. The husband has forfeited every right to her consideration. He has outraged her sense of decency. He has failed to perform all his obligations as husband and father. He has disgraced himself and humiliated his family; he has merited any punishment that they may choose to inflict upon him.

But, there are higher motives than vindictive ones. There are other considerations than sentimental and emotional ones. There are sometimes more advantageous arrangements possible for a wife and mother than separation and divorce from a renegade husband. If she is untrained and inexperienced in the matter of making a living she has scant chance of finding remunerative employment in these troublous times. Little mouths to feed and little backs to cover must be taken into consideration. Courts award alimony but there is no way to split between the cup of a divorced husband's hand and the lips of his family. A philanderer and gambler doesn't earn or save enough to support two families. In the nature of the case there will be two families dependent upon him for support before many years have passed.

One of the most sobering facts in life is that a woman carrying a man places her whole future in his hands. She automatically shares the place that he occupies. She is happy or unhappy according to the way he feels toward her and treats her. She is exalted or humiliated according to the way he regards her. And it is so happens that he treats her out-razously and lives in such a manner that she feels contemptuous of him and she is doomed to a life of disappointment and wretchedness.

CULBERTSON ON CONTRACT

How to Play Bridge and Remain Married

Why is it that the average husband-and-wife partnership at the Bridge table seems to end in disaster? Periodically, the newspapers carry stories concerning the misunderstandings of husband-and-wife partnerships. There seems to be no reason why a married couple cannot reach a mutual agreement on a game from which each member of the partnership derives a great deal of pleasure.

Lieutenant Mrs. Robert F. Carter, of Port Meade, Md., after 10 years of partnership in Rubber and Tournament play, have reached the conclusion that the rules for the game should be changed. The new combination will produce a more harmonious game for both the husband and wife, and will save the players at the table, who must innocently suffer while the constant bickering of the married partners is in progress.

For the husband:

1. Don't yell at your wife.
2. Don't blame your wife for your errors.
3. Be as decent to your wife as you would if she were another man's wife.
4. Don't think that a marriage certificate constitutes appointment as a chain gang boss.
5. When you teach your wife a new bid or point out an error, don't sputter, but simply talk intelligently.

For the wife:

1. Don't insist on the last word.
2. Let your husband "dominate" the play and bid the pycchies.
3. Don't point out your husband's errors as if you never made one yourself.
4. Don't always remind your husband you taught him how to play. He's probably taught you much more since.
5. Return courtesy with courtesy, and a display of temper—justified or unjustified—with a smile, but not an insincere or "superior" smile.

Shortly after the formation and discussion of the above rules, the following hand occurred in a Rubber game at the Deschappelles Club of Baltimore.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—(AP)—The bond market lacked assurance today and prices in all categories drifted to irregularly lower levels.

A sharp slump in German maturities and advances in United States government obligations tended to unsettle most domestic groups, although there was some resistance shown by scattered rails, utilities and industrials.

Trading volume sagged with prices, sales totaling only $10,616,000. This was a lower aggregate than that of any day last week except the Saturday when sales totaled $11,000,000.

German loans which until last week hovered around their high marks for the past two years, were depressed to more than 6 points. The International 5 1/2's, with a turnover of 414 bonds, lost 2 1/4 points and French 7 1/2's gave up a point but came back to close unchanged.
